Form of control: exam

The content of the student's independent work in the academic discipline "Foreign Language" involves preparation for classroom lessons by mastering lecture materials, studying basic and additional literature, periodicals, Internet sources, performing practical tasks (analysis of problem and situational tasks, preparation of the results of one's own research for a presentation at conferences, participation in scientific paper competitions, preparation and publication of scientific articles, theses, etc.) during the semester; independent study of individual topics of the academic discipline; preparation of reports and presentations on the topic of practical classes; translation of foreign texts on professional topics; performance of individual tasks; preparation for all types of control, including modular control works and final certification.

The content of the student's independent work is determined by the work program of the academic discipline of a specific academic discipline, methodological recommendations for tasks and recommendations of the teacher.

Technical equipment and/or software. The educational process uses classrooms, a library, a multimedia projector and a computer for conducting seminar/practical classes with presentation elements. Studying individual topics and completing practical tasks requires access to information from the World Wide Web, which is provided by a free Wi-Fi network.

Forms and methods of control.

Control of the success of education seekers is divided into current and final (semester).

Current control is carried out during practical, laboratory and seminar classes, the purpose of which is to systematically check the understanding and assimilation of theoretical educational material, the ability to use theoretical knowledge when performing practical tasks, etc. The possibilities of current control are extremely wide: motivation for learning, stimulation of educational and cognitive activity, a differentiated approach to learning, individualization of learning, etc.

Forms of student participation in the educational process, which are subject to current control:

-assessment of reading, listening, speaking and writing skills using various forms of work, such as oral answers, essay writing;

- participation in discussions, interactive forms of organizing classes;
- written tasks (tests, tests, creative works, essays, etc.);
- translation of texts of a professional direction;
- independent study of topics;

Control of the success of students is divided into current and final.

Methods of current control: oral control (survey, conversation, report, message, etc.); written control (test work, essay, presentation of material on a given topic in writing, etc.); combined control; presentation of independent work; test control; solving problem situations and situational tasks.

The table contains information about the maximum points for each type of academic work of a student.

When assessing the mastery of each topic for the current educational activity, the student is given marks taking into account the approved assessment criteria for the relevant discipline.

The criteria for assessing the learning outcomes of students and the distribution of points they receive are regulated by the Regulations on the assessment of academic achievements of students at PJSC "HEI "MAUP".

Modular control. Modular control work on the academic discipline "Foreign Language" is carried out in written form, in the form of testing, namely, closed-form open-form tests: test-alternative, test-compliance in the form: question-extended answer.

Criteria for evaluating the modular test work in the academic discipline "Foreign Language":

When evaluating the modular test work, the volume and correctness of the completed tasks are taken into account:

- the grade "excellent" (A) is given for the correct completion of all tasks (or more than 90% of all tasks);
- the grade "good" (B) is given for the completion of 80% of all tasks;
- the grade "good" (C) is given for the completion of 70% of all tasks;
- the grade "satisfactory" (D) is given if 60% of the proposed tasks are completed correctly;
- the grade "satisfactory" (E) is given if more than 50% of the proposed tasks are completed correctly;
- the grade "unsatisfactory" (FX) is given if less than 50% of the tasks are completed.

Absence from the modular test work - 0 points.

The above grades are transformed into rating points as follows:

"A" - 18-20 points;
"B" - 16-17 points;
"C" - 14-15 points;
"D" - 12-13 points.
"E" - 10-11 points;
"FX" - less than 10 points.

The final semester test in the academic discipline "Foreign Language" is a mandatory form of assessing the learning outcomes of a higher education applicant. It is carried out within the time limits established by the educational process schedule and in the volume of educational material determined by the program of the academic discipline.

Final control is carried out in the form of a test (written) and an exam (written). A student is admitted to semester control provided that he/she has completed all types of work.

The test, exam is issued based on the results of the student's work throughout the semester and the assessment for the test (examination) work. The rating assessment of the student consists of the points received by the student based on the results of current control, final control and incentive points.

The final control is carried out in the form of an exam. The student is admitted to the final control provided that he/she performed all types of work outlined in the syllabus.

The final (semester) grade of the discipline for which the exam is provided is formed from two components: the results (grade) of the ongoing control; exam grade.

The maximum number of points for the ongoing control is 60, for the examination is 40.

The minimum amount by which the exam is considered as passed is 25 points.

The grade for the ongoing control is formed as the sum of rating points received by the student during the seminars/practical classes and incentive (if provided) points.

After evaluating the student's answers on the exam, the professor summarizes the points received for the ongoing control measures and points for the exam to obtain the final grade for the course.

Scale for the assessment of exam tasks

Scale	Total points	Criteria
Excellent level	30–40	The task is completed with high quality; the student has achieved the maximum score in the assessment of theoretical knowledge.
Good level	20–29	The task is completed with high quality and a sufficiently high proportion of correct answers.

Satisfactory level	10–19	The task is completed with an average number of correct answers; the student has demonstrated theoretical knowledge with significant errors.
Unsatisfactory level	0–9	The task is not completed; the student has demonstrated theoretical knowledge with major errors.

Assessment of additional (individual) types of educational activities. Additional (individual) types of educational activities include the participation of applicants in scientific conferences, scientific circles of applicants and problem groups, preparation of publications, participation in All-Ukrainian Olympiads and competitions and International competitions, etc. in excess of the tasks established by the relevant work program of the academic discipline.

By decision of the department, applicants who participated in scientific research work and performed certain types of additional (individual) types of educational activities may be awarded incentive (bonus) points for a certain educational component.

Also, incentive points may be awarded if the applicant, for example, completed and defended certain types of work, attended all lectures, seminars and practical classes, has his own handwritten lecture notes and developed additional educational material, has no missed classes without good reason, attended additional consultations with the lecturer, etc.

The amount of incentive points is taken into account when setting the final scores in the credit and examination report (but not more than 89 points in the total) and can be automatically counted when setting the final semester grade for the corresponding educational component.

Incentive points are not normative and are not included in the table of distribution of points received by higher education applicants and the main scale of the assessment system.

One event can be the basis for setting incentive points only for one most relevant educational component.

The total number of points scored by education applicants for completing tasks for independent work is one of the components of the current academic performance in the academic discipline. Independent work on each topic according to the work program of the academic discipline is evaluated in the range from 0 to 3 points using standardized generalized knowledge assessment criteria.

Scale for evaluating the performance of independent work (individual tasks)

The maximum possible assessment of independent work (individual tasks)	Execution level
	Excellent	Good	Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
2	2	1,5	1	0

Forms of independent control: current control based on the performance of practical work; current control of knowledge acquisition based on the assessment of oral answers to questions, messages, reports, etc. (in practical (seminar) classes); individual or collective project that requires the formation of practical skills and abilities of students (selective form); solving situational tasks; a summary made on the topic studied independently; testing, performing a written test; draft articles, speech abstracts and other publications, other forms that contribute to the full assimilation of the educational program and the consistent development of skills for effective independent professional (practical and scientific and theoretical) activity at a high level.

To assess the learning outcomes of a higher education applicant during the semester, a 100-point, national and ECTS assessment scale is used

Final assessment scale: national and ECTS

Total points for all types of learning activities	ECTS assessment	National scale assessment for exam, course project (work), practice
		National scale assessment for exam, course project (work), practice	for pass/fail
90 – 100	A	excellent	pass

Course Policy.

To successfully master the course "Foreign Language", the student must:

- regularly attend seminars/practical classes;
- systematically, systematically and actively work in practical classes;
- work out missed classes or unsatisfactory grades received in classes;
- perform the tasks required to be prepared by the teacher in full, of proper quality;
- perform control and other independent work;
- adhere to the norms of academic behavior and ethics.

The course "Foreign Language" involves mastering and adhering to the principles of ethics and academic integrity, in particular, an orientation to preventing plagiarism in any of its manifestations: all works, reports, essays, presentations must be original and authorial, not overloaded with quotes, and must be accompanied by references to primary sources. Violations of academic integrity are considered to be: academic plagiarism, self-plagiarism, fabrication, falsification, copying, deception, bribery, biased evaluation.

The assessment of the student is focused on obtaining points for activity in seminar classes, completing tasks for independent work, as well as completing tasks that are capable of developing practical skills and abilities for which additional (bonus) points may be awarded, at the teacher's decision (participation in round tables, scientific conferences, olympiads and scientific competitions among students).
